CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Littlefield

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famous medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., is wrapped up in its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities. The fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his Favorite Prescription for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves. Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient stimulant. Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people who know the people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes have such professional endorsement. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Peppermint Cure for Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pelle" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

The horses started quickly, throwing him off the load and dislocating the left shoulder. MAKES HOMELY WOMEN PRETTY.
No woman no matter how regular her features may be can be called pretty if her complexion is bad. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and clears shallow blood, complexion by stimulating the liver and bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripes and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name ORINO and refuse to accept any substitute. R. H. Moody.

A well-known Aroostook farmer told Dr. Twitchell of the Maine Farmer the other day that from his 40 acres of potatoes he this year harvested an average of 270 bushels per acre, and from these sold 1,600 barrels, from the farm for money and for household expenses for the year, hired labor, taxes, fertilizer, all expenses of every kind, and now has in his storehouses 6,400 bushels for market later on.

WEAK HEART'S
are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol For Dyspepsia
digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. For Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach. After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using it for one week I was cured. MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn. N. Y. I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me. D. KAUSLE, Nevada, O.

Digests What You Eat
Believes indigestion, sour stomach, belching of gas, etc. Prepared at the Laboratory of J. C. S. & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Prohibition and Prosperity.

The savings bank deposits in Maine have increased $40,000,000 in the last 38 years. Population has increased only 20 per cent, but valuation per capita has increased 252 per cent. From 1850 to 1890 paupers increased in Illinois 175 per cent, in Kentucky 178 per cent, in Ohio 135 per cent, in Maine the percentage has decreased 145 per cent. Maine, a prohibition State, in 1898 had $41 prisoners, 13 for every 10,000 people; Massachusetts, a local option State, with license rule in her larger cities, had 7,454 prisoners or 33 for every 10,000 people. If "prohibition does not prohibit" it looks from the above as if it was a decided aid to the prosperity of a State, even though it isn't fully enforced.—Congressman Littlefield.

Pictures of Drunkards.

The city council of Fond du Lac, Wis., has unanimously adopted an ordinance which provides that pictures of the habitual drunkards shall be conspicuously posted in every saloon, together with a warning not to sell or give away any liquor to the person thus proscribed. The ordinance provides that when any court decides a man is an habitual drunkard he shall immediately be photographed, this cost being added to his fine. The city grew weary of providing the habituals with a place to sleep, and the new measure will probably have the desired effect of curbing intemperance.

Literary News and Notes.

In sending us a copy of "The Camp on Letter K," the publishers, Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Company, 93 Federal Street, Boston, say: "We are saying to the public that anyone finding himself incapable of taking an interest in this book will be promptly given a ticket to the Boston Emergency Hospital upon application to the publishers." It is safe to say that no such applications will be received; and many will be glad to know that while this story is complete in itself there will be two more books of a series to be published later. The Somerville, Mass., Journal says: "We have often wondered who would write the book that would win the boys of today along the same lines that the books of Elijah Kellogg gained their popularity in this country. The man has appeared and is also a graduate of Bowdoin college. He is Clarence B. Burleigh, the well-known editor of the Kennebec Journal, Augusta, Me., and the son of ex-Governor Edwin C. Burleigh, the present congressman from his district. His first book deals with two active boys in Astorbrook county, close to the northeastern boundary of our country, and where smuggling across the Canadian line has been prevalent. These good chums have many exciting adventures, the most important of which directly concerns the leading smugglers of the district. [Boston: Lothrop, Lee & Shepard, publishers. Price, $1.50.]

At the age of 86 a well known Portland man, John M. Todd, barber and philosopher, has written and published a book, and the "Reminiscences of John M. Todd," will be locally famous for years to come. It is in its way a great book. The old man has gone through this life with his eyes open, and has been much to many men. He is a very modest man, too modest to be and he did not tell as he might the story of the Greenback movement in which he played a notable part. Without John M. Todd and Elliott King, the latter long since dead, there would have been no Greenback movement at all in Cumberland county, where it was strong to the last. Mr. Todd has in his time played many parts. When the Greenback movement was at its height, the late General Samuel J. Anderson said to him that he ought to have stuck to his first line that of a blacksmith, but the barber insisted that he was in a position to study human nature, and he kept on doing it. Mr. Todd is a long and vigorous and works hard every day. He is not concerning himself about the future but insists that he ought to live and work until at least 100 before thinking of retiring. He is certainly one of the best known men of Portland and is a unique man in all respects. He has a host of friends, but while he has been said: "Almost anything might be expected in the case of John M. Todd" still beginning a literary career at 86 is, to say the least, rather out of the ordinary.

The official tabulation gives the vote of Waldo county for Governor as follows: Cobb, 2,522; Davis, 2,711; Woodard, 41; Fox, 15.

Among the unclaimed letters in the Belfast post office last week was one for Hart L. Fittidge. It was intended for Hart L. Fittidge.

There will be a spiritual meeting in Seaside hall Sunday, Oct. 28th. Should the meeting will be postponed until the following Sunday. All are cordially invited.

The Waldo County Veteran Association met with E. M. Billings Post, Monroe, Me. If stormy, next fair day. The association will furnish beans, brown bread and comrades will bring their pastry.—E. M. Billings, secretary.

The K. K.'s had their first meeting for the season at the home of Miss Marian White, Church street, last Monday evening. The enjoyable evening was spent. The next meeting will be at No. 4 Court street on Wednesday, October 25th.

The Jackson and family leave next Monday morning for Northport, where Mr. Blacking is engaged in extensive lumbering operations. The plans to cut between 250,000 and 300,000 of lumber this winter and will employ about 25 men if he will be on the job. The Jackson Courier-Gazette.

Arrangements are still the order of the day at the Waldo County Hospital. They are building a new kitchen, piping gas to the new room and wiring the building for electricity. Four new patients were admitted last week.

The paper reported among the passengers of the Robinson House, last Thursday, "R. T. Danien" and "George P. Johnson" of Belfast. The third member of the hunting party, Charles P. Hazeltine, was correctly reported.

Charles received a souvenir postcard last Friday night from Sidney M. Danien in Edinburgh, Scotland, who is recalled as one of the "boy burglars" whose cases came before the September term of court and who was released on the recognizance.

The Boston papers published last week sensational and untruthful stories regarding Mr. H. D. Patterson, who had been in Lynn, such as he is now in, and from which he soon returned. He is now in this city with his wife, Mrs. A. G. Spencer.

Mr. Dickey had 49 on his excursion to Seaside last Thursday, and all report a very enjoyable trip. Today, Thursday, he made an excursion to Rockland on the Seaside, with a trolley ride to the State Prison. The excursion is deservedly popular.

There will be a meeting of the Channing Church, Thursday, afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. William B. Davis, High street, instead of at the Park as previously arranged. Mrs. Davis will speak on "Waldo County in Liberal Religion." Quotation from Edward Everett Hale.

Davis, Mr. Adams and Mrs. Read.

The musical and literary entertainment given in Memorial Hall last Thursday evening under the auspices of the Universalist church was well attended and very enjoyable. The program included readings by Miss M. Stoddard of Boston, whistling solos by C. E. White of Belfast, and a solo by Miss Isaphene Patterson of Belfast.

The fitting room of Leonard & Barrows, which had been shut down for several weeks to rearrange the machinery, has been reopened. The different fittings have been shutting down as the work in hand was disposed of, but in a few days all will be running again to their former capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest P. Piper entertained a large company of relatives at their beautiful home on Lincolnville avenue, Saturday, Oct. 20th, in honor of Mr. Piper's mother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Piper of Montana. The guests took dinner and supper there and spent a most enjoyable afternoon wandering over the old homestead, which is a part of Ernest's present farm. Four generations were represented, which is not a very common occurrence.

Two Belfast men were riding over the lower bridge the other day when one of them remarked that it was built for a very reasonable sum, with no suspicion of graft. They both agreed that it was a good bridge and that in material and construction it would compare favorably with wooden bridges elsewhere. That the plank covering should wear out, and have to be renewed occasionally, ought not to surprise any one. There is a large amount of travel over this bridge and much heavy teaming, and there is a limit to the endurance of wood under such conditions. This bridge is one of the many good things to the credit of the business-like administration of Mayor Poor.

The public library was closed Monday and Tuesday while the ceiling was painted.

The President has issued a proclamation naming Thursday, Nov. 29th, as a day of Thanksgiving.

Chase & Doak have taken orders for class pins for the classes of 1908 and 1909, Belfast High school.

A number of the Belfast schools, including those on the common, will be closed today and tomorrow while the teachers attend the meetings of the State Teachers' Association in Lewiston.

The Belfast business colony on Cape Jellison is growing. Harry W. Clark was the pioneer and established a branch of his clothing store with Frank Prescott in charge. Now Dutch & Berry are building a new store on a lot directly opposite the Cape Jellison House, to be 40 by 50 feet with an extension in the rear and apartments for two families in the second story. They will carry a line of groceries and provisions and run a lunch counter. Harry Applin of Somerville, Mass., is building a fine department store with two tenements upstairs at the Cape, on the road to the village, and has the work well along. The store when completed and opened will be under the management of Bert Condon of Belfast.

STEAMER NOTES. The steamer Ruth, Capt. B. W. Arey, now making three trips per week between Bangor and Brooksville, carried here last week. Thursday the Ruth carried a party of officials of the B. & A. R. R. and Great Northern Paper Co. to Rockland to witness the launching of the auxiliary schooner Northland. The work of raising the main deck of steamer Tremont now on Gilchrist's marine railway has begun, the sponsors having been first taken. The boat will be greatly improved. It is reported at Bucksport that the Eastern Steamship company will shortly put on a steamer, probably the St. Croix, from Stockton Springs to Boston. The steamer Lottie & May had her smoke stack broken and was otherwise damaged while towing the schooner Charles F. Sprague out of Stockton harbor and went to Bucksport Friday for repairs. Capt. M. W. Emerson of Bucksport was in charge of steamer Bismarck for a few days the past week while Capt. Bennett was in Portland on business.

SHIPPING ITEMS. In a write-up of Capt. Joseph F. Peterson of South Penobscot who recently completed his 38th voyage to the Grand Banks, bringing home a full fare in the schooner M. B. Stetson, the Bangor News says of this successful skipper that among the vessels in whose company he has sailed was the Rattlesnake. That is going back at least half a century. The writer now has a pencil drawing of the Rattlesnake and well remembers making the sketch one rainy day from the end of a wharf. The billet head of the schooner was the head of a snake, the body extending on the trail boards. The Rattlesnake had a sharp bow but rather a heavy stern and like all of her class of that day had no foretopmast. Sch. Hattie C. THE RALSTON IS A SOLID PROPOSITION

It is solidly built of picked leathers, as good and handsome as money can buy; there is no shoddy in them anywhere.

It is also solid in the principle of its construction. You remember how comfortable to your foot was the feeling of the supporting, conforming sand of the sea beach. It touched without pressure every part of your foot. It fitted—A RALSTON HEALTH SHOE is made on just that comfortable idea—it Fits the Foot.

Now lots of men right here in town have sore, tired, aching feet—why? Because the inside of their shoes is different from the shape of their feet. If you will come in and let us explain just why the Ralston Health Shoe is different and better than ordinary shoes, you will see why we sell more and more every season.

AFTER EFFECTS OF THE GRIP

Cause Decline That May Be Fatal. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Meet This Condition. They Build Up System, Restore Lost Fresh and Bring Good Health.

"About three years ago," says Mrs. Jennie Cowan, of 718 N. Henry street, West Bay City, Mich., "I caught a severe cold, which ran into the grip. I was confined to my bed for two weeks. At the end of that time I was able to be about, but was completely run down. I was so weak I could hardly stand, my cheeks had no color and I felt that my heart would flutter and it was difficult for me to breathe at times. Neuralgia settled in the back of my head and stomach and I suffered from rheumatism in my shoulders."

"I had the care of the best doctor in town but became no better until a friend told me one day how she had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to try them. I took one pill three times a day and using them until I was entirely cured. They built me up again to perfect health and I use them now whenever I feel at all sick and they always help me."

The after-effects of the grip are generally worse than the disease itself. The health of the body is badly shattered and often-times there seems to be no way of restoring it. The blood is poor, the breathing difficult and there is loss of weight. The sufferer becomes nervous and irritable and the system is powerless to resist the attacks of such diseases as bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable in this condition, as well as in other blood diseases, because by acting directly through the blood, purifying and enriching it, they not only drive out the germs of the disease but build up the system. The pills have cured anemia, rheumatism, after-effects of fever, nervousness and many other severe disorders of the blood and nerves.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, for $2.00 per bottle. Send for a free trial box $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

Notes of a Visit to Seaport, Belfast, Brooksville and Castine.

A correspondent of the Gardiner Reporter-Journal, who accompanied the Grand Officers to Brooksville to institute Bagaduce Lodge of Masons, gives some interesting notes of his trip. He says:

We changed cars at Burnham Junction but had to wait for an hour before proceeding to Belfast, a distance of thirty-four miles. The scenery is varied along the route; woodland, pastures and cultivated fields. We passed several large fields of potatoes, in some of which double horse potatoes were in operation, an interesting sight to those of us who had never seen any of the machines in use.

We arrived at Belfast about 9:30 a. m. and took the steamer Golden Rod for the place of our destination. We made our first landing at Seaport, six miles N. E. from Belfast, a neat looking village located on a hillside overlooking a portion of Penobscot Bay. This town was incorporated in 1845, and named in honor of Daniel Sears of Boston, who owned Sears Island in that vicinity. We did not meet Daniel, and could not get as to his present abiding place, whether it be in Seaport or elsewhere.

Stockton Springs is in plain sight as we sailed from Seaport, and a large new wooden building was pointed out to us as the storehouse for shipment of potatoes brought from Aroostook county by the Bangor and Aroostook railroad, the terminal of which is at this place.

The lodge was duly instituted, the officer installed and an appetizing supper followed. The writer then continues:

A steam launch took our party across the Bagaduce river to Castine where we spent the night at the Castine House, much to our gratification. This town was settled in 1626 by Plymouth's colony as a trading post. It was named for Jean Vincent of St. Castine, who settled here in 1687 and married the daughter of an Indian chief. One of the State Normal schools is located here, and the village is very resort for very many summer visitors. The present population is a little over nine hundred. On the summit of the hill overlooking the bay is an old English earthwork, enclosing about two acres of ground. A stone placed at one of the angles is inscribed "Fort George—British Works—1779-84-1814-15," during which time the peninsula was occupied by the British army. The view from the earth works is well worth a visit to the historic town of Castine.

We left Castine for Belfast at 8:30 a. m. and after a delightful supper at the hotel and a quarter, we landed at the beautiful city of Belfast, situated on a hillside at the head of the bay. Its present population is about forty-six hundred. We climbed the hill to the top of the town and repaid by the beautiful view of the city and harbor which this outlook afforded us. Like Jerusalem of old, Belfast "is beautiful for situation."

The Windsor Hotel furnished us with a comfortable resting place and an excellent dinner. The landlord is genial, the waiters prompt and courteous, and an air of comfort pervades all departments.

STILL KNOWS HOW TO SHOOT.

Lieutenant Farrow Breaks Record at 1,000 Yards, With His Son Second.

The Washington Times of last Saturday had a good picture of Lieutenant W. Milton Farrow, formerly of this city, now inspector of rifle practice of the Fourth Battalion of Washington, who in the rifle shooting in that city, Friday, broke the record at 1,000 yards by scoring 48 out of a possible 50. The Times says: "His shooting was the most remarkable ever seen on a District range, although he says he should have made 50, because he was never in better trim. Lieutenant Farrow is one of the oldest men in the Guard, and has been shooting for more than 35 years. He won the championship of the world at Creedmoor in 1882, and has been adding other medals every year. Because of his wonderful skill in handling a rifle he was barred from all the events except the Harries long-range match at 1,000 yards, and promptly hung up new figures. All his shots except the sixth and eighth penetrated the center of the bulls-eye 3,000 feet away. Those two missed the black center by a fraction of an inch."

"Sergeant W. Milton Farrow, Jr., a nephew of the old black, and finished second in his father, with a score of 47."

Sergeant Farrow also won the Evening Star match, with a score of 83. Sergeant Farrow is a grandson of Mr. Augustus G. Greene of this city and a brother of Mrs. George H. Chase—Newport, R. I., Daily News Oct. 11th.

Lieut. Farrow is a "Belfast boy" and learned the jeweler's trade with the late Col. Irlam Chase. A record made by him on a drawer in the store shows that he began his apprenticeship in 1866 and left in 1869.

VISITED STOCKTON SPRINGS.

20 of Bar Harbor's Business Men Enjoy Saturday twenty of the Bar Harbor business men who are interested in property at Stockton Springs chartered the Mascot for a visit to the new town. The trip was made in especially good time making the 63 miles in 5 hours and 15 minutes. The party were served a fine fish dinner aboard and did ample justice to it. They were hospitably entertained at Mrs. Libby's hotel. The party included: Capt. Frank M. Conners, Capt. Alfred Conners, F. M. Conners, Chas. Conners, Wm. Pierce, Henry A. Lawford, Chester Hodgkins, Thomas Sears, Irving Hodgkins, Clifford West, Ernest Roberts, Preston Joy, G. Raymond Joy, Clinton B. Higgins, A. L. Stafford, H. D. Wakefield, Luther Leach, Les Moore, G. E. Super, J. Alden Morse. Several of them brought home souvenirs of the trip, H. A. Lawford a moving picture machine, G. E. Super a photograph for a choice record, A. L. Stafford a pack of cards. "Pete" Conners was lost for a time but was returned safely by a kind physician. The men were much impressed with the new town and its outlook.—Bar Harbor Record.
